Halloween Bingo

Picture bingo for the whole class. Grades K–8.

PREVIEW

What's included

- 30 unique picture boards, every board a different mix
- 40 cut-apart calling cards and a caller's checklist
- A projectable calling deck in Google Slides (also opens in PowerPoint)
- Color and ink-saver B&W, US Letter and A4

How it plays

1. Every student gets a board. All 30 are different.
2. Call a picture from the deck, or draw a calling card.
3. Students mark it if they have it. The center is free.
4. Five in a row is a Bingo!

What this preview shows: the teacher instructions, one of the 30 boards, one page of calling cards, the caller's checklist, and two slides from the calling deck. The full pack has every board in color and ink-saver black & white, US Letter and A4.

Halloween Bingo

Picture bingo for the whole class. Grades K-8. No prep, just print.

How to play

1. Give every student a board. All 30 boards are different, so nobody can copy.
2. Call one picture at a time: project the calling deck and click through, or draw a calling card from a bucket.
3. Students mark the picture on their board if they have it. The center square is free.
4. Five in a row across, down, or diagonal is a Bingo!
5. Check the winner against the caller's checklist, then keep going for second place.

Teacher tips

- Use candy corn, dry beans, or a crayon to mark squares. Print on card stock if you want to reuse the boards.
- Younger players: say the word and show the picture. Older players: call the word only.
- Short on time? Play four corners or a single line. Long party? Play blackout (fill the whole board).
- Print the black and white version to save color ink. It is designed for it.
